

Geography of Language & Religion

Understanding Religions

- At their base understanding a religion is a set of ideas tied together under the belief in some type of divine being, a guiding set of morality, and a belief in an afterlife
 - Guiding principles for follower to live by give direction and how the religion should be practiced

Polytheistic and Monotheistic Religions

- Religions can be divided based on their structure in the belief of one god (monotheism) or their belief in many gods (polytheism)
 - Monotheistic religions offer greater cultural cohesion as cults or sects can develop around different gods within a polytheistic society

Universalizing and Ethnic Religions

- Universalizing religions are open to all and will actively seek converts to join their religion
 - Islam and Christianity are main examples and because of this they are also the largest religions world wide
- Ethnic religion the members are born into it and the religious ideas are connected to their ethnicity.
 - Hinduism and Judaism are common examples of ethnic religions. Judaism remains rather small, whereas Hinduism is quite large due to its large population in India

Folk Religions and Animism

- Folk cultures often have site specific religious beliefs tied to their environment they have often adopted unique religions beliefs and practices that are specific to their culture only
- Many are animistic, meaning they attribute supernatural powers to plants, animals, and inanimate objects
 - Example – Mongolian Mythology had a sky god, horse god, etc...

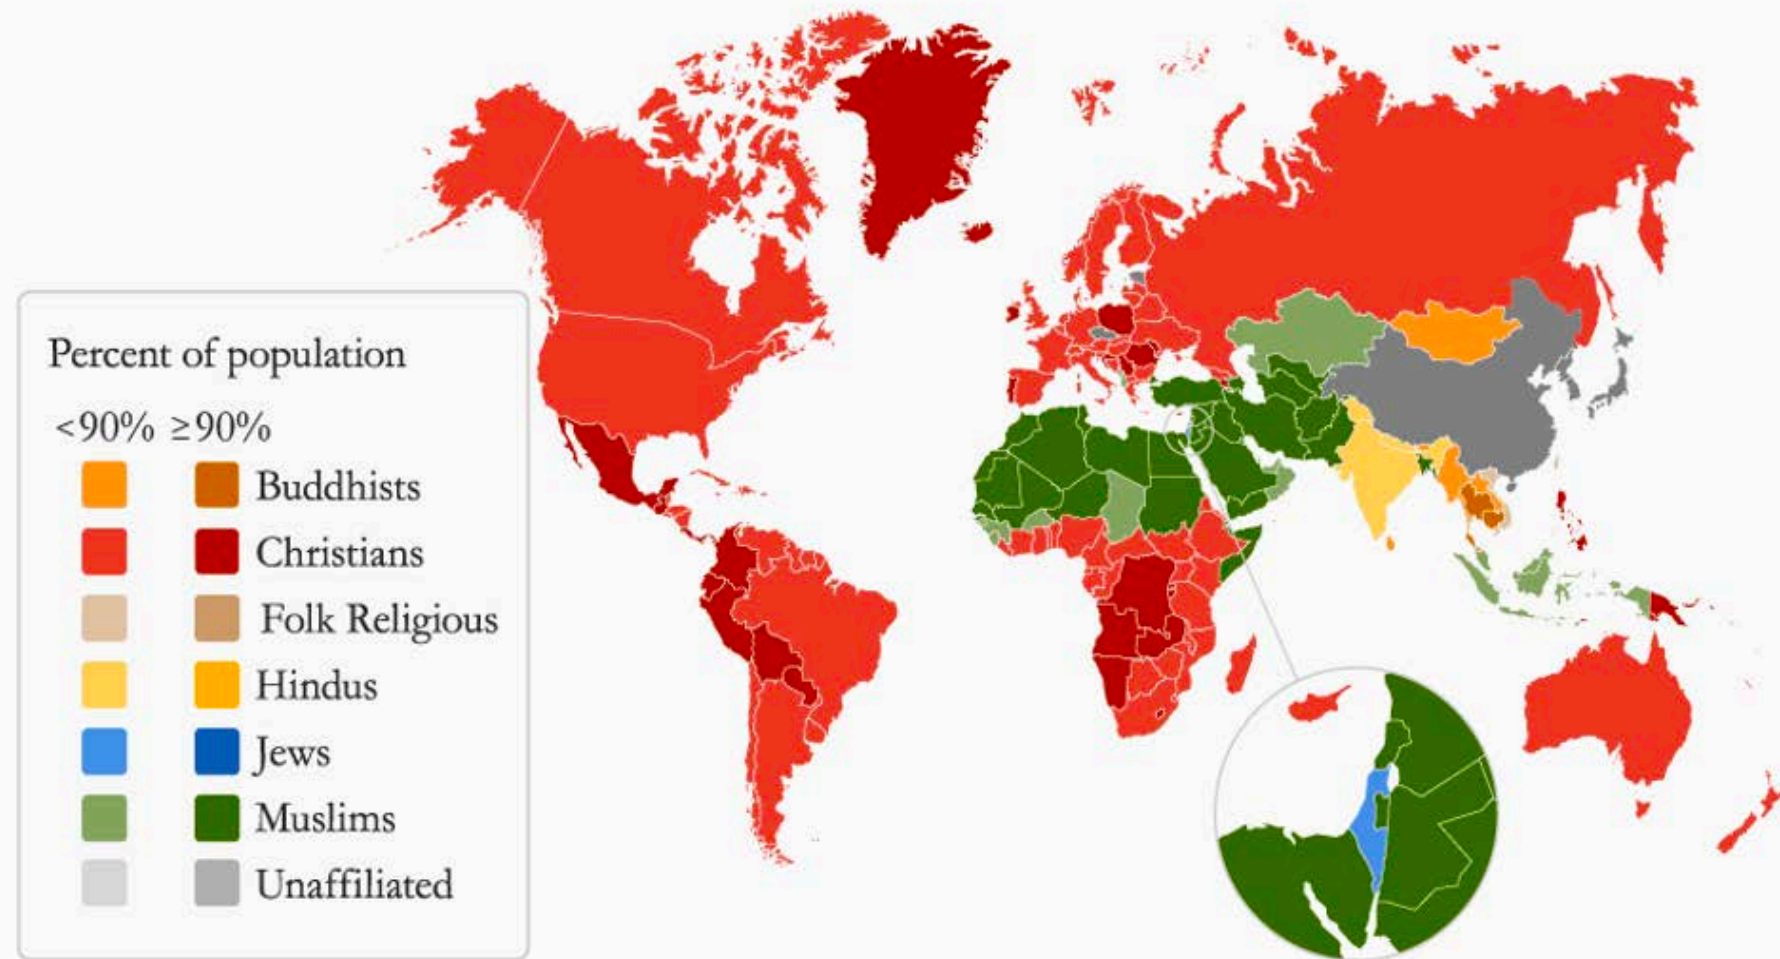

Branches, Denominations, and Sects

- Branch – Large divisions of religions based on structural beliefs (ex. division of Islam between Shi'a and Sunni or Christianity (Catholic, Protestant, and Orthodox))
- Denomination – Further separation of Religious branches (ex. Splitting Orthodox Christianity between Eastern and Greek Orthodox denominations)
- Sect – A further division a religious denomination who develop specific but fundamental differences than the rest of the main practice (Ex. The “Old Believers” in Eastern Orthodox church)
 - Sometimes considered to be derogatory

The largest religious groups worldwide

Largest religions by country in 2010 (darker colour represents greater prevalence)

@StatistaCharts Source: Pew Research Center

 INDEPENDENT

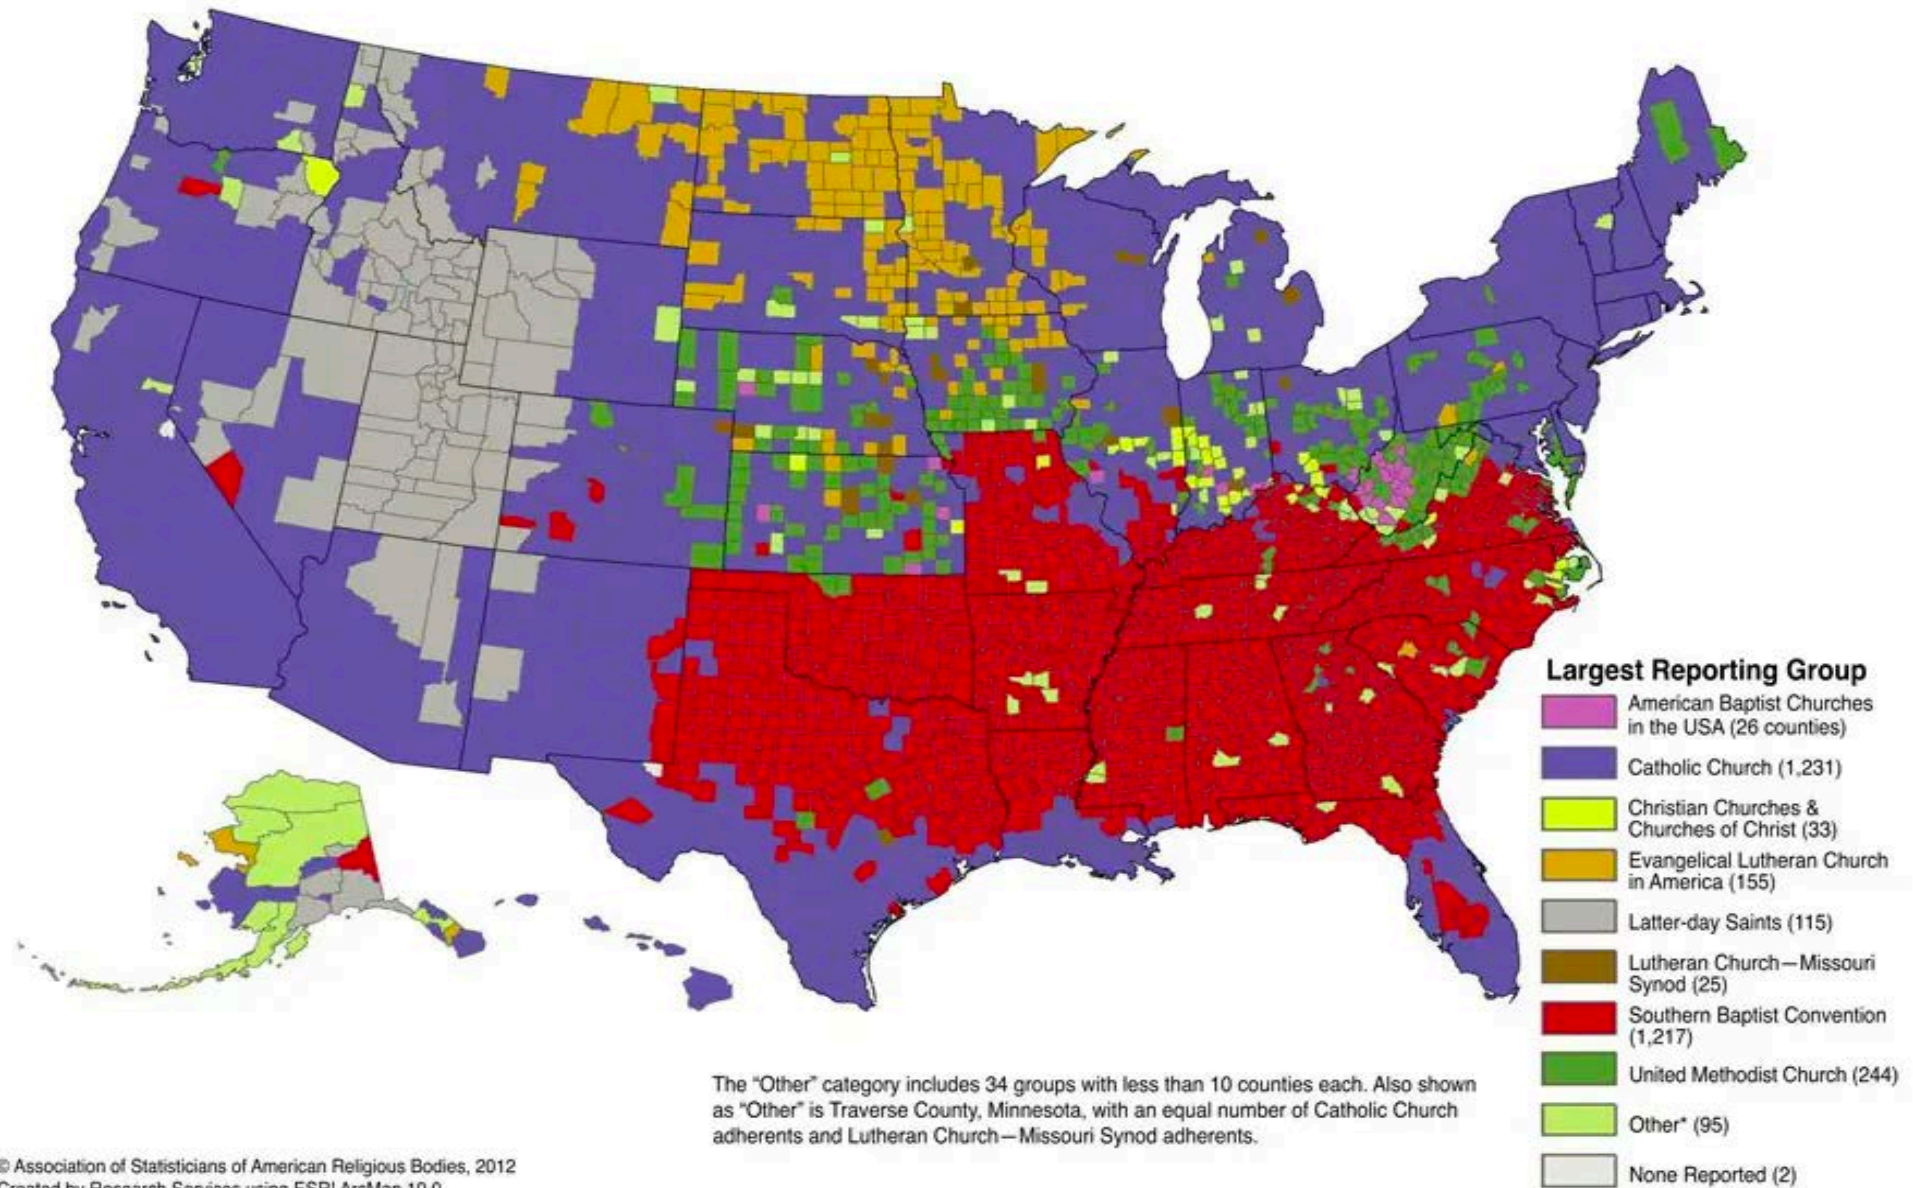

statista

Largest Participating Religious Group

Group with the Largest Number of Adherents by County, 2010

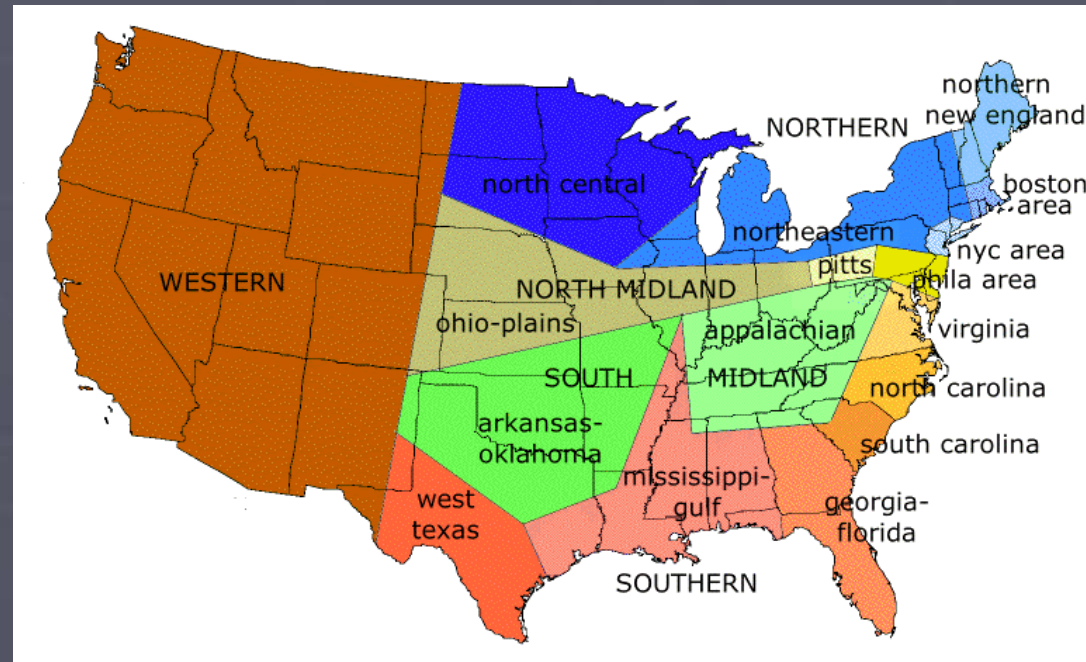

2010 U.S. Religion Census: Religious Congregations & Membership Study • www.USReligionCensus.org

Components of Language

Defining Language

- Pronunciation and combination of words used to communicate within a group of people
 - Dialects: Minor variations of a language
 - Lingua franca: Current language of international discourse

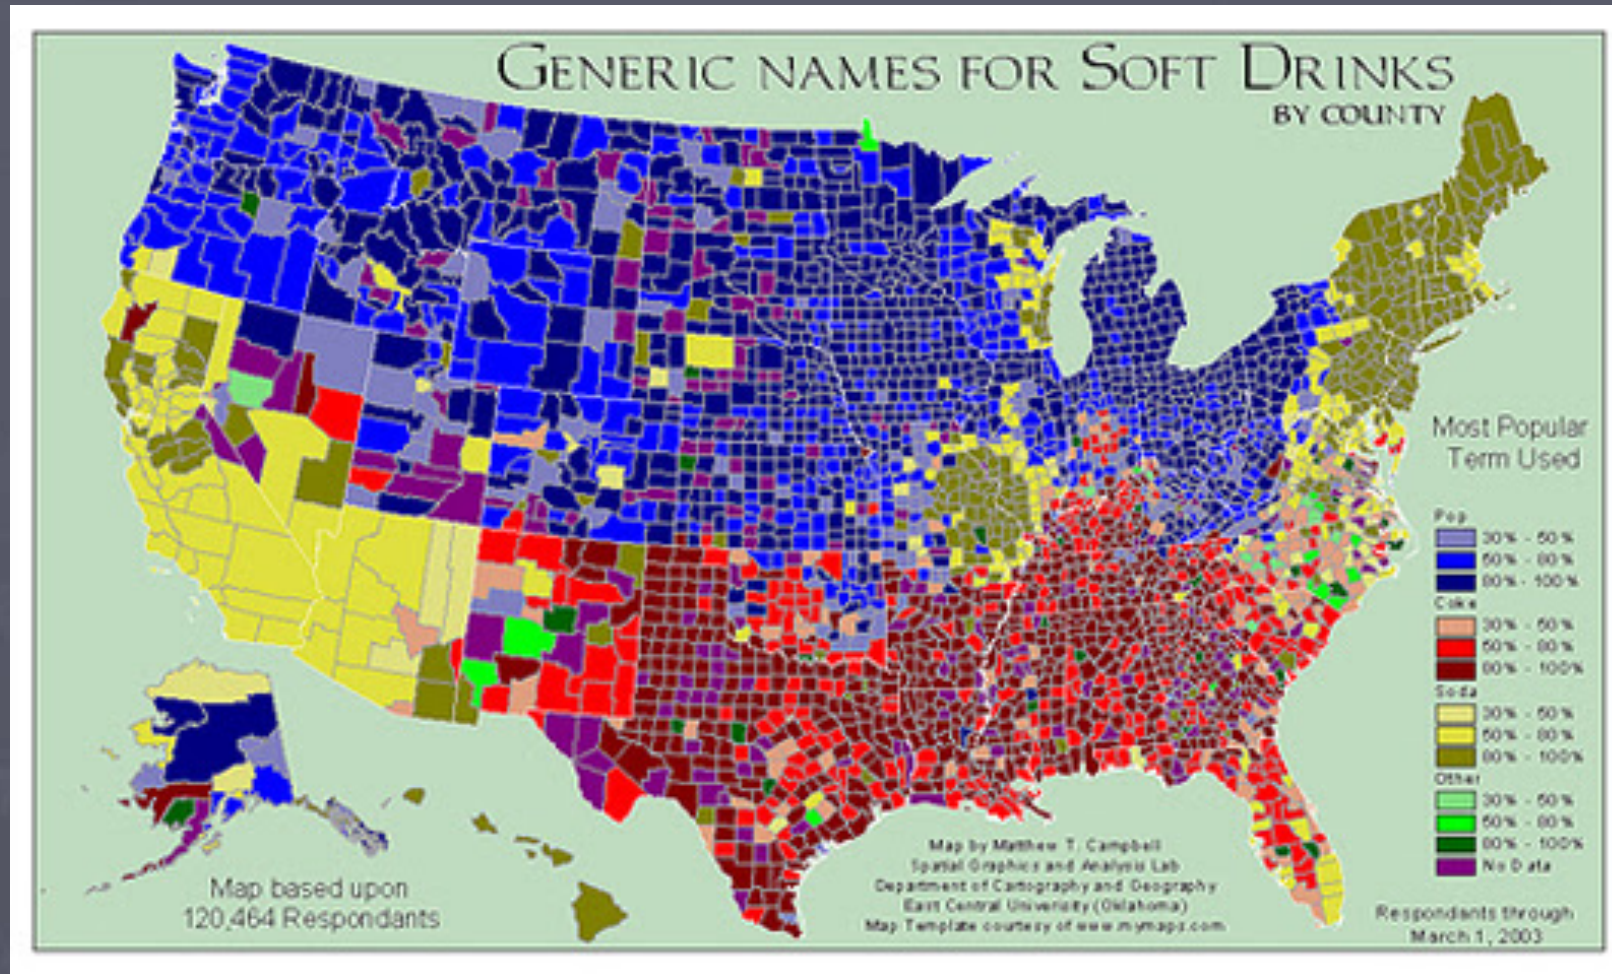

Isogloss

- Geographic Boundaries of a language
 - Defined by linguists who determine differing speech patterns
 - Ex. “you guys” vs. y’all

Copyright © 2005 Pearson Prentice Hall, Inc.

Case Study: Pop vs. everyone who is wrong

Linguistic Majorities

- Worldwide over 3000 different languages spoken
 - 50% speaks the top 12 languages
 - Mandarin has the most
 - English is most widespread

TABLE 7-1 The World's Leading Languages and the Number of Speakers of Each (in millions)

Language	Native speakers	Total speakers
Mandarin	885	1,075
Hindi	375	496
Spanish	358	425
English	350	514
Arabic	211	256
Bengali	210	215
Portuguese	178	194
Russian	165	275
Japanese	125	126
German	100	128
French	77	129
Malay-Indonesian	58	176

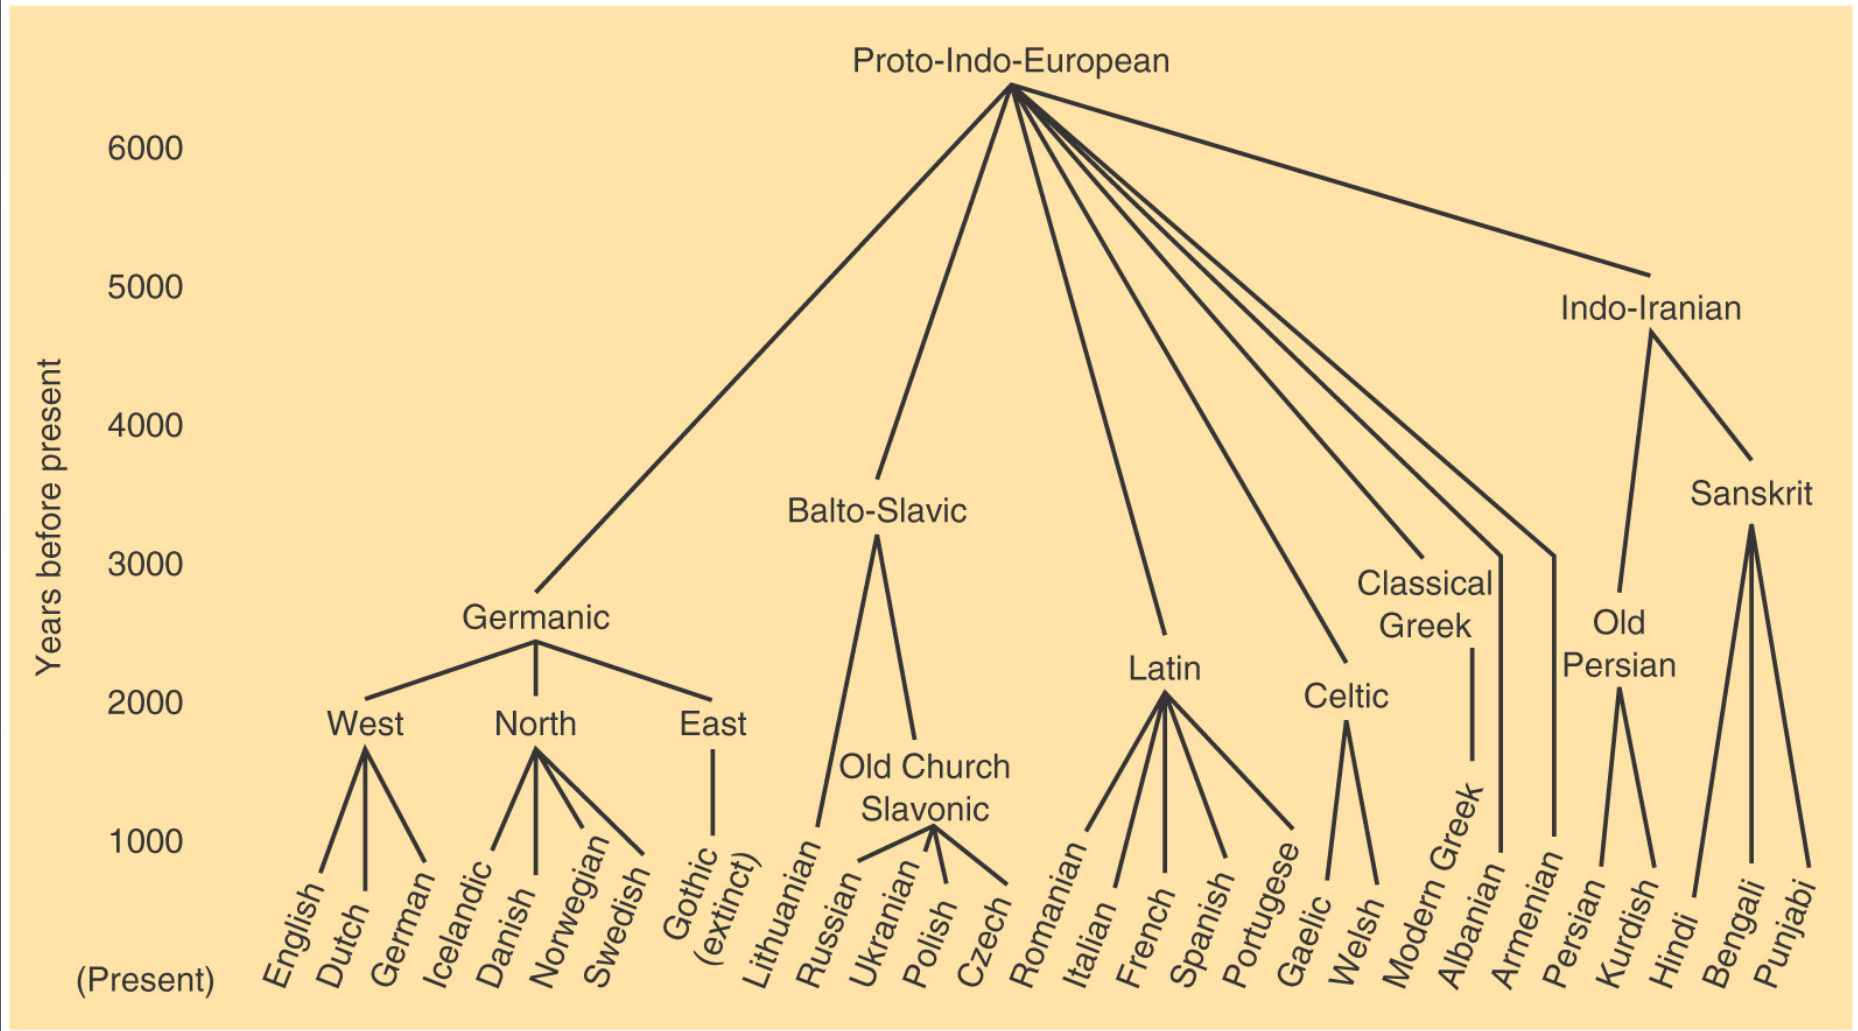

Note: A native speaker is one for whom the language is his or her first language.

Source: U.S. Department of State

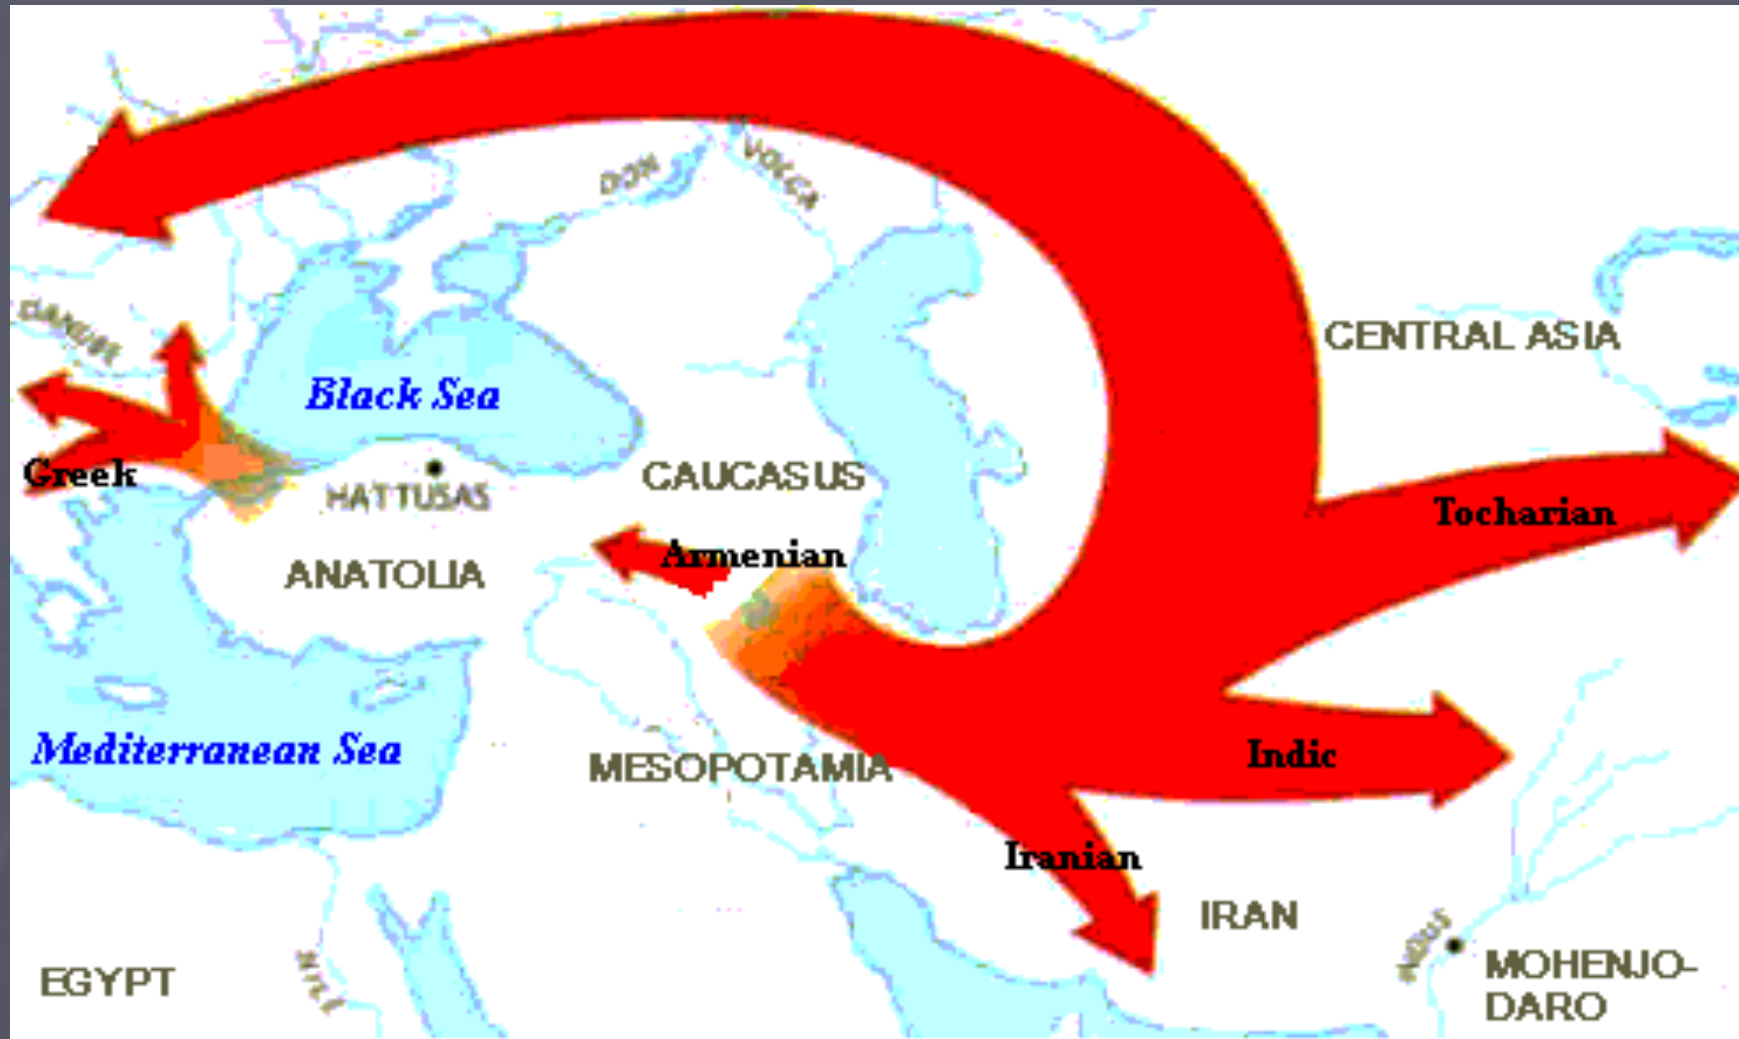

Linguistic Development

- Protolanguage: Evolution of current languages from a common root
- Language family: Languages related by descent from a common protolanguage
 - Members of the same language family may not be mutually intelligible
 - Ex. English speakers can not easily understand German even though they are in the same language family
- Cognates: Words with common etymological origins
 - i.e. Tsar (Russians), Kaiser (German) from Caesar (Latin)
 - Etymology: Study of word origins and changes

Evolution of Proto-Indo-European Language

Indo-European Linguistic Diffusion

Language Families

Language and Cultural Identity

- Language is a unifying factor leading to greater cultural cohesion
- Linguistic similarities lead to formation of identity
 - Ex. French people speak French, and Texans have a “Texan” accent
 - Some countries go so far as to establish official languages
 - Ex. Canada’s official languages are English and French
 - Acceptance into a cultural group sometimes dependent on language acquisition
 - Ex. French do not accept French Canadians as similar due to language differences

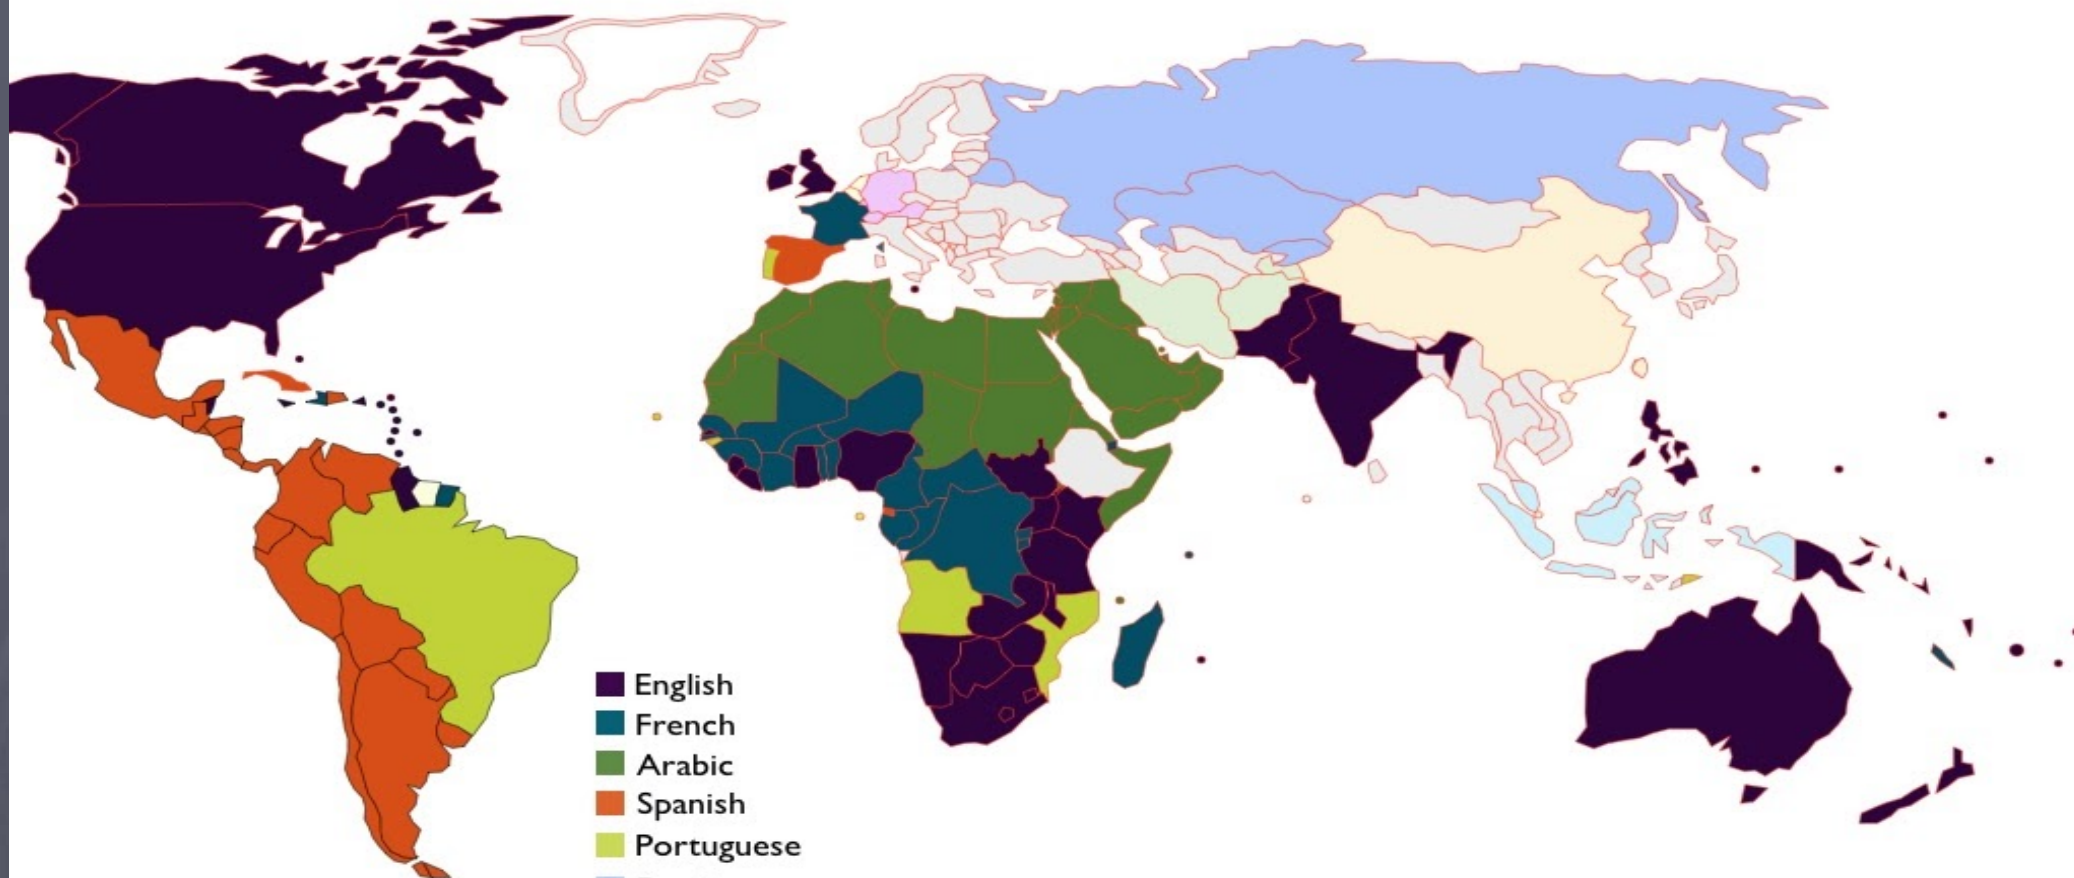

Language and National Identity

- Official languages
 - Language in which government business is conducted
 - Monolingual have one official language while multilingual has more than one
- Postcolonial societies
 - Imposed official languages by colonial ruler

International Languages with Official National Status*

- English
- French
- Arabic
- Spanish
- Portuguese
- Russian
- Malay (Indonesian/Malaysian)
- German
- Mandarin Chinese
- Persian
- Dutch/Flemish

Note: In regard to small islands, only sovereign states are depicted on the base map, not exclaves such as Guadeloupe, or dependencies, such as the Falklands (Malvinas).

 de jure or de facto; official status in at least three internationally recognized sovereign states*

Note: For countries with more than one official language noted on the map (such as Belgium, Chad, and Vanuatu), the most widely used of those languages is depicted.

Toponymy

- The study of place names
- Consists of:
 - Natural features
 - Origins/values of inhabitants
 - Belief structures, religions
 - Current or past heroes

Communist era name

Andropov
Brezhnev
Chernenko
Frunze
Georgiu-Dezh
Gorky
Gotvald
Kalinin
Kuibyshev
Kirovbad
Leninabad
Leningrad
Mayakovsky
Ordzhonikidze
Sverdlovsk
Voroshilovgrad
Zhdanov

Previous and now restored name

Rybinsk
Naberezhnye Chelny
Sharypovo
Bishkek
Lisky
Nizhny Novgorod
Zmiev
Tver
Samara
Gyanja
Khodjent
St. Petersburg
Bagdati
Vladikavkaz
Yekaterinburg
Lugansk
Mariupol

